Agricultural College Act—An Agricultural College for Oregon

For several years efforts have been made to obtain from Congress donations of public lands the avails of which should be applied to the endowment of an Agricultural College in each State of the Union. At the recent session of Congress these efforts were successful. An act was passed granting for the purpose named to every loyal State an amount of public land to be apportioned to each State, in quantity equal to 30,000 acres for each Senator and Representative in Congress to which the States are respectfully entitled by the apportionment under the census of 1860; provided that no mineral lands shall be selected or purchased under the provisions of the act. [illegible] States in which there are no public lands under the law will be entitled to land scrip, to be issued for their benefit. When the States in which there are public lands, shall select their lands, they will be under the control of such States and be managed at their expense until their sale. All moneys realized under the law, whether for lands or scrip are required to be invested in stocks of the United States or of the States which yield five per cent interest per annum; and the money so invested must remain a permanent fund the interest of which shall be inviolably appropriated by each State which may claim the benefit of the act, for the endowment, support and maintenance of at least one college where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in such manner as the Legislatures of the States may respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions in life. [Sec. [illegible]]

Such is the grant proposed to be made to the loyal States, AND ON THESE CONDITIONS.—The States which shall accept the donation must signify their acceptance by legislative acts. If any portion of the fund or the interest accruing therefrom shall by any contingency be diminished, the States interested must make the same good; the annual interest shall be applied to the purposes stated in section twenty-four (quoted above) except that "ten per cent of the same may be applied to the purchase of lands for sites or experimental farms whenever authorized by the respective Legislatures of said States;" no portion of the fund or interest on the same shall be used under any pretence to the purchase, erection, preservation or repair of any building or buildings. States which apply for the benefit of the act must provide within five years at least one college building or their right will be ceased and the State will be bound to refund to the General Government the value of the lands or scrip [illegible] may have received; "an annual report shall be made regarding the progress of each college, recording any improvements and experiments made, with their cost and results, and such other matters, including State industrial and economical statistics, as may be supposed useful; one copy of which shall be transmitted by mail free, by each, to all the other colleges which may be endowed under the provisions of this Act, and also one copy to the Secretary of the Interior." Lands rated at $2 50 per acre in consequence of railroad grants shall be computed to States at that price, and the number of acres to which they are entitled proportionally diminished. States to be entitled to this donation must express their acceptance within two years from the approval of this law; no land scrip to be issued under this law can be selected until after the first day of January, 1863. Land officers shall be allowed fees for locating land scrip; the Governors of States receiving land scrip will be required to report annually to Congress all sales made of scrip and what appropriation has been made of the proceeds.

We have given our readers a summary of the main points in this law as [illegible] possible for us to do.

THE STATE OF OREGON under the law will be entitled to [illegible] THOUSAND ACRES OF LAND. This land if selected as soon as the law will allow can be made to be worth $100,000; the amount may not be realized at once, but we have [illegible] conviction that it will be in time.

How then can the Farmers and Mechanics of Oregon avail themselves of this fund for the education of their children?

In the first place, the Legislature must signify its acceptance of the donation on the terms specified; it must erect college buildings at the expense of the State; this must be done by an appropriation [illegible] of the funds and the fund [illegible] by the State [illegible] by the State. We venture [illegible] that [illegible] business shall be [illegible] as may be into the hands of the Farmers and Mechanics of this State, [illegible] individuals be selected of the [illegible] of character, ability and devotion to the objects of the grant, and who are proper persons to take charge of such an institution, to be selected by the Legislature. Then [illegible] they can [illegible] the management of this important matter. There are men in Oregon who will be [illegible] to lend their services in taking [illegible] development, appropriation [illegible] to their [illegible] children.

The Legislature of Oregon will be called upon to act upon this matter at the approaching session, and the subject cannot be too soon agitated and discussed among our citizens. The FARMERS and MECHANICS of Oregon must not let this great endowment made for their especial benefit be lost to themselves and their children and children's children by their neglect.

We may, if we have time hereafter, give some views of the advantages which we conceive will result in the establishment of an Industrial College in Oregon. And we cannot but congratulate our people on the accession to the Executive office at this interesting period in the history of Oregon of an individual who will willingly devote all the powers of a mind impressed by education and observation to advance the interests of our people. Gov. Gibbs is the right man and he is in the right place.

The Steamer "Golden Gate" Burned at Sea

Terrible Loss of Life—Of 338 Persons on Board, 198 Lost or Missing—$1,400,747 of Treasure Lost.

The steamer Golden Gate, Captain Hudson, left San Francisco for Panama on Monday, July 21st, at 9½ A. M. She had on board 242 passengers, which, with 96 officers and crew, made a total of 338 souls. She took $1,400,747 24 in specie, of which $1,114,647 24 was shipped for New York, $273,100 for England, and $13,000 for Panama. When one day out she met the Golden Age coming up—the vessels exchanged letters. The letters that came up showed that the passengers on board the Gate were having an exceedingly pleasant time—the prospects for a happy voyage were never fairer.

The next news from the Gate that reaches us is brought by the St. Louis, which arrived at 5 o'clock last evening, bringing tidings that make the ears of all who hear them tingle, and spreading sorrow and gloom wherever they go.

The voyage continued pleasant, the weather fair, everything auspicious, until the afternoon of the first Sunday out—July 27th.—About a quarter to 5 P. M., while the first cabin passengers were at dinner, word was brought to Captain Hudson that the ship was on fire. So soon as the Captain saw that the alarm was not a false one, the passengers were ordered forward and the ship headed for the shore, which was 3 or 4 miles distant.—About 100 of the passengers had succeeded in reaching the forecastle, when the flames, bursting out amidships, cut off all communication between the fore and after part of the ship. The sea was calm, but the westerly wind hurled the flames aft, and soon many who were in that part of the vessel leaped overboard into the sea and were drowned. There appears to have been plenty of life preservers on board, but they were in the boats and not easily reached. The pumps were manned, the male passengers vieing with the crew to work them, but the flames burst out so rapidly that they soon had to be deserted.

There was a terrible panic among the passengers on the forecastle, yet no more than might have been expected. A few leaped into the sea and very few of them provided with life preservers. Others clung to the deck till the fire compelled them to leap or endure a more horrible death. Others whose garments were on fire had to be thrust overboard as the desperate chance of life. The hurricane deck fell with a crash while the vessel was still under way. Several ropes were made fast to the sides of the ship and thrown overboard. Passengers descended by those to the water but they were soon so much loaded that those who first went down by them were crowded off and drowned. One of these ropes burned off and all who were on it sank together. Life preservers, spars, and everything that would float was thrown overboard by those who could reach them, and the survivors availed themselves of their aid.

Of the ten boats on board but four could be reached. One of these was capsized and sunk on being launched. The other three were filled when launched, but many of those who were found swimming were taken on board. They could not land through the surf, and instantly steered for Manzanillo.

The ship struck when about 400 yards from the beach, where a heavy surf was rolling. By the shock many who still clung to the bows were thrown overboard. The last to leave the ship were Captains Hudson and Pearson, who dropped from the bowsprit after the vessel beached and with great difficulty made their way to the beach.

Many were washed up by the surf more dead than alive. Those who were in better condition labored faithfully to draw them out of the surf. By six o'clock the vessel, except her huge machinery, had entirely disappeared, the fire having burned all the woodwork to the water's edge. The living on shore counted some eighty—and there was many a dead. These were carefully conveyed to the upper beach, and as night drew on the sad survivors prepared as they might to pass the night. They almost buried themselves in the dry sand both for warmth, for as the night proceeded it grew quite cold, and for protection from the mosquitoes and sand flies which very much tormented them.

Early next morning the living took such boards as they could find on the beach, and with them excavated a grave for each of the 16 dead, whose bodies had been washed ashore. The survivors then started for Manzanillo—the further particulars of that terrible walk are detailed in the statement of Capt. Pearson given below.

The St. Louis, coming from Panama, reached Manzanillo on the 28th. There she received intelligence of the loss of the Golden Gate. She immediately started for the scene of the wreck, fired signal guns, lowered boats, and took off from the shore all the survivors of the wreck who could be found. She returned to Manzanillo early [illegible] July 29, at [illegible] [illegible] Capt. Hudson [illegible] further assistance that [illegible] three [illegible] had not [illegible] left. The third [illegible] twenty [illegible] the [illegible] who were [illegible] having been seventy [illegible] were.

Full Particulars of the Loss.
STEAMER ST. LOUIS, MANZANILLO,
July 28th, [illegible]

On the [illegible] P. M. [illegible] at [illegible] Capt. Hudson [illegible] the Golden Gate [illegible] We [illegible] the fire which [illegible] twenty [illegible] [illegible] I was [illegible] blaze [illegible] the paddle box, falling on [illegible] we [illegible] and I dashed [illegible] the smoke [illegible] till I was driven [illegible] I then [illegible] that they were [illegible] the [illegible] after pump [illegible] the [illegible] were [illegible] I steered [illegible] Capt. Hudson say that he had headed the steamer for the shore [illegible] jumping [illegible] I saw at a glance that we [illegible] as the flames flared up [illegible] Mr. Waddell who said [illegible] below were cut off and would [illegible] [illegible] that was done and Waddell [illegible] proved by the [illegible] after freight [illegible] and was saved.

Immediately I directed the panic stricken women and children that were in the cabin, to the stairways over the paddle boxes, forward myself carrying two of Mr. Eckhart's children, the flames turning up as we rushed by them. About this time it was that Capt. Hudson was driven from the [illegible] paddle box forward. At the risk of my life I passed back again over the paddle box, cut the cover of the forward after [illegible] and caught out the life preservers, rushing forward again through the scorching heat, met Mr. Flint and Purser Wood, to each of whom I gave one of the life preservers, and secured one to be for using to use myself if I became so exhausted as to need one. Mr. Wood gave his to a woman who, notwithstanding, was lost.

My labors were now turned to the head pump and hose, and we fought the fire foot by foot until the men were driven away. At about this time the steamer changed her course from the direction of the land to the northward, as if the wheelman had been forced to leave his post, but she soon changed again and headed straight on for the beach.

I cut away the awning and ropes that were burned off, and made them fast to the forward rails that the passengers might cling to them, and advised those who could not swim to secure such things as would float them ashore. [illegible] calm until the steamer struck the beach. Many did so, but others, confused and bewildered, threw themselves at once into the water.

At a quarter past five P. M., by my watch, the upper deck fell in, and the foremast went by the board, falling to starboard. Soon after this she took the beach very easily, having but little way, though the engines kept working up to that time. [illegible] then it was that I told the people to jump and try their best to reach the shore.

Huge breakers were rolling past the ship, sweeping everything before them to the beach, and those persons who retained strength when cast on the shore helped to drag the exhausted ones from the surf.

At last Captain Hudson and myself were alone. Tearing off our clothing as well as we could, on under the bowsprit, with flakes of fire falling on us from above, we watched our chance to jump in after a roller, but the rope [illegible] the water washed ashore, and I was [illegible] exhausted physically and mentally, with both hands, left arm and right shoulder burned [illegible] though I am a good swimmer [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Seeing a small spar [illegible] the starboard [illegible] I jumped with my life preserver [illegible] was swept some distance from the steamer [illegible] the stubborn flow. But I was back to the spot I spoke of [illegible] [illegible] two or eight [illegible] that my strength was not equal to the task before me. I managed to get the life preserver [illegible] [illegible] when I was [illegible] port side threw myself on my back and [illegible] [illegible] in fast [illegible]

Then I was [illegible] a quicksand [illegible] of numerous breakers [illegible] [illegible] and was finally pitched [illegible] with a spar attached to the foremast [illegible] danger was imminent of being crushed, but my strength was nearly gone [illegible] [illegible] them [illegible] [illegible] when [illegible] [illegible] and dragging [illegible] [illegible] gained my strength [illegible] I learn that more were not saved [illegible] lying [illegible] whose names I call [illegible] We numbered but one hundred persons. Flint and [illegible] and other familiar faces were not among them. We were [illegible]

What the horror of the scene of the wreck and huge seas making breaches through the charred timber, burning [illegible] high in the air, we gathered our band by the light and laid them up on the sand out of the [illegible] of the sea and then sat down to watch the gloomy scene.

By [illegible] o'clock P. M. what was not burned of the steamer was broken up, the bow and stern came ashore, and in the morning there was nothing left but the [illegible] [illegible] attachment. The beach was strewn with various portions of the wreck. [illegible] were picked up [illegible] were [illegible] from thirst and exhaustion [illegible] who were too weak [illegible]

Among our number were [illegible] Capt. [illegible] Whitney, P. C. S. [illegible] and [illegible] Mr. McMullen [illegible] bowed to the earth by the loss of his wife and children, and Mr. Waddell, Chief Engineer. We had [illegible] [illegible] clinging [illegible] little hope [illegible] Manzanillo which was distant [illegible] and we hoped that they would come to our relief early in the morning.

As soon as day broke we buried the dead, four of them were women, two of these [illegible] women and I think [illegible] Mrs. McMullen.

We buried them in the sand, digging the graves with [illegible] hands. We placed a cross at the head of the graves [illegible] the spot is sacred.

When we [illegible] we started [illegible] Manzanillo [illegible] White [illegible] brackish and [illegible] [illegible] surveyed with [illegible] high mountain [illegible] covered with [illegible] impenetrable [illegible] [illegible] cliff [illegible]

[illegible] leaving the [illegible] of the wreck [illegible] party [illegible] hundred [illegible] Mrs. W[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] I know [illegible] [illegible] we passed the [illegible] water [illegible] advance [illegible] Manzanillo [illegible] rock from which they jumped [illegible] in the morning. Through the long night we suffered [illegible] [illegible] woman [illegible] water [illegible] which they procured [illegible] pump from the rock into the water when the [illegible]

We climbed through [illegible] and [illegible] such as you never saw. Mrs. W[illegible] did all this [illegible] [illegible] She [illegible] I told her to jump, gave her a push and she was safely drawn to the boat.

About this time Mr. N[illegible] one of the Golden Gate boats came in sight, and shouted that the St. Louis was at hand. Capt. Hud[son] [illegible] Mrs. W[illegible] and I got into the Custom House boat, where we found [illegible] children had [illegible] Manzanillo who had come to our relief with wine, water and bread; the other boats under [illegible] N[illegible] and Sutton took all the remainder of our fellow sufferers.

Capt. [illegible] received us with open arms, [illegible] his officers and some of his passengers [illegible] for our wounded and burnt and clothed us.

While I write it [illegible] I fear that I may break down to-morrow; the steamer is cruising about firing guns and picking up the stragglers that come out of the mountains.

At [illegible] P. M. we came to anchor at Manzanillo, leaving the boats out to rescue all they could find. Before we came in we saw several dead bodies drifting to the southeast.

We had hoped that the steamer's boats had saved a number of passengers and as it was but a short distance to Manzanillo, would have returned to hunt us up on Monday morning, but those in charge of the boats did not [illegible] [illegible] shore, and the current swept all but one some twenty miles to the southeast of the port, so that they did not get to Manzanillo till Monday afternoon. Then I learned from Mr. Conner, late U. S. Consul at Mazatlan, that much time was lost in trying to induce the Captain of the brig Manzan[illegible] [illegible] Mazatlan [illegible] he and his family [illegible] passengers to come to our assistance.

This inhuman wretch refused to move though Mr. Conner and others had worked all night to hasten our deliverance. It is worth often thousand ten times the value of his vessel, but no persuasion or entreaty touched his heart of stone; he was as immovable as the [illegible] and waves from which we were laying to escape. The contrast between this scoundrel and the inhabitants of Manzanillo was most striking; they threw open their houses, fed the hungry, clothed the naked, and bound up with the kindest care those little children who had [illegible] from burns and exhaustion. The Captain of the Man[illegible] [illegible] I have not learned.

A list [illegible] will be sent up and by that you will know who were lost. I am told [illegible] [illegible] but there are [illegible] so much worse than I am that [illegible] I have lost all I had [illegible] [illegible] through the past [illegible] years. My only comfort is that I tried [illegible] saving the ship and passengers [illegible] from what I [illegible] my [illegible] paper. [illegible] My chief regret is that so many were lost [illegible] calamity [illegible] with [illegible] by all of us as long as we [illegible]

From all that I can learn I think that the fire originated in the after galley between the [illegible] the smoke stack [illegible] start [illegible] and the ship burned up in the [illegible] [illegible] time narrated [illegible] Capt. Hudson and his officers and crew [illegible] and when they [illegible] life.

I have written this while the incidents are [illegible] and I have no time [illegible] [illegible] plain sailor statement.

Hudson made all arrangements [illegible] passengers [illegible] Golden Gate [illegible] [illegible] destination. But [illegible] we [illegible] the St. Louis [illegible] two hours [illegible] [illegible] when [illegible] We were [illegible] [illegible] leaving after the St. Louis [illegible] about [illegible] [illegible] to take the [illegible] [illegible] to return to the St. Louis [illegible] meeting her [illegible] well and [illegible] are now on the [illegible] list.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Book Store, and at Charles Barrett's, Front st.

Arrival.—The ocean steamship Pacific arrived at Couch's wharf yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, bringing dates from San Francisco to August 7th, and from the East to Aug. 4th. We are under obligation to Wells Fargo & Co. for file of late California and Eastern papers, and to the gentlemanly Purser Mr Benton, for the following

Memoranda.—Steamer Pacific, A. M. Burns commander, left San Francisco August 7th, at 6 P. M.; crossed Columbia river Bar on the 10th, at 7 P. M., and arrived at Portland on the 11th, at 8 A. M.

Passengers.—S S Fenn, Mrs R Fenn and 4 children, J Taylor and wife, Rev I Carvalho, C Gordon, Mrs L Williams, F West, Mrs I Riley and child, Mrs a Savage, I Harris, H Hendee, Frankenheim, Mrs Starkey, A W Ellis, [illegible] lin and wife, Miss S Gilman, R Cranmer, C Crane, Mrs [illegible] on Orso, Thomas Clark, I S Trook, L P W Quimby, Mrs Keller and two children, I D Lawrence, C G Lawrence, wife and child, Mast B Gray, W H D[illegible], D McCully, Miss McCully, H Sinsheim, M A Kelly and wife, I A Ford. Wells Fargo & Co's messenger and 18 others. 380 tons of freight. Benton, Purser.

Arrival of the Hunt.—The Wilson G. Hunt arrived yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from Cascades, with but few passengers and a small amount of dust, as there was no connection beyond the Dalles. A report reached the Dalles on Saturday last that the steamer Tenino while upward bound, from Des Chutes to Wallula, run on a rock near Texas rapids and stuck there. It is said she will prove a total loss, but we are in hopes that the damage is not so great as represented.

Opposition Boat.—The steamer Maria recently arrived, is intended to run on the up river trade in opposition to the Oregon Steam Navigation Co.'s steamers. From present indications, it is believed a very formidable rival company will be successfully operating on this route in a short time but unless their steamers begin to make trips with equal regularity and certainty, very soon, with that of the O. S. N. Company, we doubt whether a sufficient permanency can be gained before winter to make it a lasting opposition. A very considerable business has been done by small opposition boats during the present season, still we believe that this opposition has not been of such magnitude as to materially affect the operations of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company. The friends of the opposition seem to be very energetic and confidently believe that they have now formed the nucleus from which will grow a powerful and wealthy company, equal in every respect to the Oregon Steam Navigation Company. The Maria is now being overhauled, repaired and painted, and we are informed by Capt. J. T. Wright, that she will be in complete running order and will probably make her first trip to the Cascades on Monday next. We doubt not she will present a fine appearance upon our waters, and prove well adapted to the up-river trade. May fortune attend her.

New Discoveries.—A rumor was brought to the city on the Hunt last evening, that new, extensive and equally as rich and remarkable gold discoveries as those of Salmon river, had been made East and South of Florence City, and that everybody was leaving Salmon river for these new mines as fast as they could get away. From the best information we could obtain of this report, we believe it needs confirmation, being only a rumor at the Dalles, brought by returned miners. We hope it may prove true, but think it best to await further reports before taking our leave for the new El Dorado, and would advise our friends to do likewise.

Sails.—The Pacific sails this evening at 6 o'clock precisely, for San Francisco via Victoria.

The Pacific brought up 380 tons of freight assorted merchandise, but it was impossible to procure a manifest, being too lengthy to copy for publication.

Specie Payment.—We learn that a gentleman just up from San Francisco reports that the Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury in that city is paying cash upon all Government drafts made payable at San Francisco, instead of U. S. bonds as has been generally supposed. This may be the case, though we do not give it as certain.

Benefit of Miss Belle Divine.—The benefit of Miss Belle Divine last night was a substantial one. The theatre was crowded. The manner in which they played "All that glitters is not Gold," shows clearly that the company possess talent, and can perform well when so disposed. The whole performance, last evening, was very creditable. Miss Belle sang some of her best songs, and John Wood as "Toby," kept the audience in a roar of laughter. "Take a keerd" John, before you leave us. They will probably go to Victoria in a few days.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the [illegible] of envy and professional malice. In the schools of [illegible], the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners of this department of medical science and they occupy with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully [illegible] him in this country, as a proof of which the [illegible] College of Medicine complimented him with a [illegible] and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the leader in this [illegible] of his profession throughout the United States and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute on [illegible] street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the [illegible] of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the [illegible] of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted!

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering, down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse, that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities, and all diseases of males and females, treated on principles established by twenty years of practice, and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines, with full directions, sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the scourge of disease, who having recovered their former health, and impelled by gratitude, make known their case and remedial agent and their statement are authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of society imperiously command their publicity, and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate. The undersigned deems it a duty to acquaint those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of uncontrollable passion in youth, depressed in body and mind, unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance. But, alas! after a few weeks and in several instances months of their treatment, I found, to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their nature, and being told by one that my disease was principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence. I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy; and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear, and my ideas collected, the constant pain in my back and groins the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasing dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges have all disappeared, and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life, that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate in falling into the hands of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience that once under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

MARYSVILLE, June 3d, 1856.

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco. Sir:—I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your Institute with my constitution as I thought broken entirely and never thought I could be well again, but I am perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms, and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of those emissions, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charges and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. Respectfully yours, THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a recommendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the disarrangement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet dreaded the miseries of my life, and soon resorted to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as those who sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. While in this state, and having previous to my affliction, tasted the sweetest life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and of my inability to reward him for his services, regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case and, with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the cure public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
